

How to obtain a free license to use FreeDem Films

We are committed to sharing the videos as widely as possible and welcome embed requests.

Our free use policy allows third parties to embed our FreeDem videos within their websites at no cost.

We want to protect the integrity of the content of the films and want to ensure that the films are used appropriately and not modified inappropriately.

In addition, we want to ensure that the videos are not used for commercial gain and that users are not charged for viewing the videos.

As a consequence before you embed the films we ask that you download the non-commercial royalty free copyright license from www.freedemliving.com/public-resources

We hope that you will take the few minutes required to read and sign the license.

So that you can embed the films as soon as possible we ask that you return a scanned version of the license via email - a hard copy can be sent by post to

Room 3.45, Lloyd Building, Trinity College Dublin, Ireland

Our aim is to facilitate free sharing of the videos in a way that protects the content, the user and intellectual property rights.

We want to facilitate free use not prevent it.

If you have any queries or any suggestions or would like to provide high-quality translation for sub titles please contact brennas1@tcd.ie